50,000 STILL ON STRIKE. LUMBER WALKOUT HALTS

By The Associated Press
Back to work movements and discussions were underway today in some sectors of the nationwide strike front, but shutouts still involved more than 50,000 workers.

Production of medical supplies at Parke Davis and company in Detroit was hampered and Detroit's bakery deliveries were 90 per cent off, as the CIO and A.L.P. unions in the respective walkouts were called back to the labor board to show cause why they should not return to work. There were about 2,500 workers in the two shutouts.

Employees in a third Detroit walkout involving 1,500 at the Federal Mould company plant, met to consider returning to work.

AFL union members were trekking back to their jobs in the Pacific northwest lumber strike which affected an estimated 40,000 workers but union leaders had not recommended that their men return.

At Worcester, Mass., the New England director of the CIO United Steelworkers appealed to members to return to work at the American Brass and Wire company plant, where a walkout over grievance procedure kept about 9,000 men out.

Strikes were active in at least four other cities besides Detroit—Cincinnati and Toledo, O.; Denver and Pampa, Ill.—by walkouts of bakery workers.

Called in a two-day "stay-in" demonstration of about 3,500 CIO men in the Lincoln, Neb., steel corporation plant at Long Island City, in protest against cancellation of carry contracts effective July 1.

Legislative and executive branches of the government were laboring here to see that firms whose contracts are terminated get enough notice so they can seek other contracts and employ other jobs.

A similar demonstration was conducted in Brewster's Johnville, Penn., plant by about 1,000 employees. The "stay-in" did not cause work stoppage by others still on the job.

W. L. Dunn HAS HEART SEIZURE
W. L. Dunn, about 65, Twin Falls police sergeant, collapsed in the lobby of the Pertine hotel at 10:30 a. m. yesterday, after he was taken to Twin Falls general hospital.

At the hospital, Wednesday afternoon it was said he had regulated consciousness "momentarily," but his physician could not tell how serious was the attorney's condition.

Jim Sargent, assistant manager of the hotel where Mr. Dunn made his home, said the attack came without warning as the attorney was leaving the lobby. Becoming immediately unconscious, he was caught in a chair and taken to the hospital, where his name was not learned.

Sargent said that Mrs. Elaine Freiling, Los Angeles, Calif., a daughter of the attorney, had been notified of her father's illness. She is now in Washington, D. C., and is employed by the federal government.

The attorney, although he handles a considerable volume of business, is best known for his work in criminal matters. He is a member of the bar in that field, and was known in the Twin Falls area as a former major league baseball player.

Mr. Dunn, who was 30 when he was later was fighting murder conviction.

PROBE DEMANDED FOR CIO POLICS

By The Associated Press
A senatorial investigation of the CIO political action committee was demanded today by Senator Butler, R., Neb., as a result of charges by Harrison E. Spangler, Republican national chairman, that the union was engaged in a "massive" campaign to "break and hold" the political process.

The CIO was a factor in two Democratic primary elections in Alabama last Tuesday. One of its reported targets, Rep. John Newhouse of the ninth district, was defeated by a Republican, another, Rep. Carter Mansueti of the seventh district, was defeated by a Republican.

Spangler wrote Attorney General Biddle asking whether anti-foreigner groups legally could follow the CIO's lead in such a campaign. He said that Biddle's "reasons for permitting such a clear violation of the law which you are under oath to enforce have not been made known."

The CIO political action committee's activities were legal. The senator said it seemed unlikely the Republicans would obtain any assistance from Biddle and he thought Spangler's complaints should be given a clearing air by a senate committee.

FLASHES OF LIFE FBI Seizes 55 in Shipyard Rackets

By Associated Press
BOSTON, May 31 (UP)—Fifty-five Bethlehem-Lingham shipyard piece-work welders and counters were arrested by squads of FBI agents and U. S. deputy marshals today in what was described as one of the most widespread war fraud racketeering cases in the country.

Seized after an investigation of several months, the workers were charged with conspiring to defraud the government. The racketeering was carried out by a group of men who were paid to work on the shipyard's piece-work system.

5th and 8th Armies 23 Miles Apart in Advance on Rome

By SID FEDER
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, May 31 (AP) — The fifth army fought Germans today barely 14 miles from Rome and the eighth army smashed into the outskirts of Frosinone, narrowing to 23 airline miles the distance between the two armies along the Via Cassilina.

British troops advanced to a point just south of coastal Pescaraella Nuova, 14 miles south of Rome. The German radio said a dramatic street fighting was in progress inside Velletri, Alban hills road junction 15 miles from the capital.

To reach Frosinone's outskirts the eighth army troops of Lieut. Gen. Sir Oliver Leese advanced down Via Cassilina (highway 6) on a broad front, with the enemy falling back steadily under pressure, an official source said. Frosinone is an important road junction and a city of 20,000 — the largest in the immediate path of the current offensive.

The eighth army previously had taken a dozen or more towns near the important highway. Fifth army artillery interdicted the Via Cassilina in the Volturno area, 20 miles from Rome. This and the eighth army's advance forced the Germans to depend increasingly upon secondary routes.

But in the critical area of the Rome line generally 16 to 20 miles south of the front line, enemy defenses were stubborn and skilled along 25 miles of battle zone stretching from Velletri to the Alban hills. The German line was held by the Alban hills to Campo Felice at the sea.

At some points west of Velletri, the allies were in a desperate attempt to break an allied breakthrough of their long established front and to force the German line to collapse. The German line was held by the Alban hills to Campo Felice at the sea.

Invasion Coast's Railroads Ripped

By AUSTIN DEANER
LONDON, May 31 (UP)—Up to 3,500 invading American planes striking from Britain and Italy for the third consecutive day smashed a German oil refinery at Ploesti today, four German rail yards (tunnelling traffic to the incessantly attacked French invasion coast) and an enemy air base in the old French Maginot line.

From 800 to 1,200 U. S. heavy bombers escorted by Mustangs and Lightning fighters from Italy at Ploesti, 35 miles north of Bucharest, and enveloped at least one major refinery and some 100 smaller refineries for miles. Clouds obscured full results of this attack on Ploesti, but the German radio said that the attack had caused considerable damage to the refineries and the enemy air base.

Better Care Means Longer Wear

Your electric refrigerator was built to give long years of service—and it will if you give it a little regular care. Nowadays with new electric refrigerators "out" for the duration, it's more important than ever before to see that your refrigerator gets the attention it needs to keep it in good order. If you have an open type mechanism, the cover can be removed for cleaning and oiling. Be sure this is done, regularly! These suggestions will also help a lot to keep your electric refrigerator working for you!

1. Defrost according to manufacturer's instructions.
2. Wash inside of refrigerator with baking soda and water, including the freezer, when you defrost. Clean shelves with soap and water.
3. Avoid overloading refrigerator with food—it stops necessary air circulation.
4. Be sure the condenser coils are not too dirty. Clean them regularly.
5. Promptly clean off grease or oil from rubber seals or outside cabinet.
6. Open type mechanisms need periodic oiling and adjusting. If you do it yourself, be sure to follow instructions exactly.
7. Hermetically sealed units need no oiling or adjusting. MOST mechanisms should have occasional cleaning.
8. Over short vacations, turn temperature control to lowest position to prevent possible frost damage. On long periods, defrost, empty ice trays, clean thoroughly and disconnect electricity. Leave door open.
9. Wipe up spilled food immediately.
